

student-alumni career mentoring program

The new Student-Alumni Career Mentoring Program gives students the opportunity to receive career advice and support from Macaulay Honors College alumni.

Mentors will

- Give support and encouragement
- Provide advice on how to balance education, career, and extracurricular activities
- Offer perspective on long-term career planning and/or graduate school education
- Share career, academic, cultural, and/or social interests

Possible Mentor-Mentee Activities

- Practice interviews
- Informational interviews
- Mentor-mentee job-shadow
- Visits to graduate school programs or companies
- Possible match to internship or research experiences at mentor's companies as appropriate
- Excursions to cultural institutions

ALUMNI MENTORS

Macaulay has graduates enrolled in medical schools, law schools, graduate schools, and employed in a variety of professional fields.

Expectations

The mentoring relationship should progress organically with each pair sharing their individual expectations for a successful outcome. The time commitment varies and mentoring sessions are arranged directly by the alum and the student.

Application Information

Students can access alumni bios and contact information on Macaulay CareerPath by navigating to Alumni Mentors on the toolbar. Simply review the available mentors and reach out to who you would like to connect with.
