

MACAULAY & LEHMAN COLLEGE

INVALUABLE SUPPORT

Macaulay students at Lehman are part of an academic environment built on excellence and a spirit of collaboration.

They pursue a broad-based liberal arts education, maintain a high grade point average, and graduate in four years. As freshmen and sophomores, they participate in semester-long Macaulay seminars with scholars from other CUNY colleges, combining academic experiences with traditional study.

ADVISING

Students develop immensely from dedicated, informed guidance by Macaulay's Lehman College team: Lena Tuck, full-time Macaulay Advisor, Olivia Loksing Moy, Director of LSP-MHC, Evelyn Durán Urrea, LSP-MHC Associate Director, and Anna Purves, LSP Coordinator and Advisor.

HIGHLIGHTS

- An intimate cohort of 20 Macaulay students per class year, ensuring individual attention from faculty and advisors.
- Interdisciplinary seminar studies for honors-specific courses capped at 20 students per class
- Close faculty collaboration inside and outside of the classroom, organizing college-wide events and research that engages the Bronx community
- Distinguished faculty including award-winning mathematicians, composers and scientists
- Lehman College is a Hispanic-Serving Institution with dedicated Hispanic Heritage Month programming with honored guest speakers and performers each year.

ADMISSIONS: DR. OLIVIA LOKSING MOY, DIRECTOR
718-960-6094 | OLIVIA.MOY@LEHMAN.CUNY.EDU

- Departmental strengths include nursing, social work, music, physics, and speech pathology.
- Acoustically perfect concert hall, as well as a college orchestra, choir, and chamber-music series.
- The APEX sports and recreation complex, which includes an Olympic-sized pool
- A designated Honors lounge and classroom in the newly renovated Leonard Lief Library on our beautiful tree-lined campus
- Lehman faculty, students, and alumni personally interview every honors program applicant who lists Lehman College as their first choice campus.

PROFESSIONAL TRAJECTORIES

Graduates go on to a wide variety of careers and professions, from law, medicine, and communications to teaching, nursing, and the health professions.

STUDY ABROAD, COMMUNITY SERVICE & INTERNSHIPS

Opportunities for study abroad in Japan, Singapore, England, Greece, and more. Internships connecting students scientific research labs in New York City's leading hospitals and medical schools. Community service trips to Puerto Rico, Haiti and Arizona, as well as community-based initiatives in and around the Bronx.

JUSTICE AND EQUITY HONORS NETWORK (JEHN)

Macaulay Students may choose to minor in disciplines in addition to their major, as well as obtain a certificate in justice and equity. Lehman Honors faculty include leading researchers on health disparities, food equity, policing, multilingual education, Black activism, pandemic-centered inequities, and educational justice in and around the Bronx. Find out more about JEHN at <https://eportfolios.macaulay.cuny.edu/jehn/>.

STUDENT LIFE

Students have access to Lehman's outstanding academic, athletic, and cultural facilities, including state-of-the-art research laboratories, a cutting-edge Information Technology Center, a sports and recreation complex ranked among the finest in the metropolitan area, and a concert hall that critics have hailed as "acoustically perfect."

FUN FACT

- NY State Attorney General Letitia Jones is a Lehman College graduate and was the first African-American woman to hold citywide office when elected as NYC Public Advocate.
- Lehman College is home to The CUNY Rare Book Scholars, a group of students dedicated to archival research in special collections in rare books libraires, private collections, and auction houses in and around New York City.